RE: 10 Rolling Planters Purchase

I want you to know that I rarely take the time to write letters such as this as I am far too busy but I, in my opinion, your rolling planters are probably the single greatest purchase I have ever made in terms of gardening or landscaping.

Our soil is very high in clay and we have rarely been able to get good results from previous year's plantings. Also we have a lot of tree coverage so I was thinking if we could find a large planter on wheels that we could physically move it so that it would always be in the sunlight at our home. Thanks to Google I was able to find your site.

At first, I was reluctant to purchase the Rolling Planters because I thought they would just be okay, maybe hold up for a season or two and then fall apart. I also thought they would be hard to move around.

Of all of the Internet purchases I have ever made these rolling planters are by far the best I ever made far exceeding all of my expectations. I would tell anyone considering purchasing these planters that they can probably get some cheaper product shipped from China but these are made in the USA and are made with top quality wood and materials and I am happy to pay the extra costs associated with getting quality. The drainage system is fantastic and the internal liner clearly is of a top grade marine material, preventing wood rot.

I am so happy with your product that I am gladly willing to have you provide my e-mail address to anyone that wants to contact me about the experiences I have had with your planters. Please have them e-mail directly at pm@act-trials.com.

Sincerely,

Patrick McLaughlin
